Generation 1

1. WILKERSON<sup>1</sup> ELLER was born on 21 May 1821 in Kentucky. He died on 22 Sep 1858 in Kentucky. He married Margaret Jane Sloan on 25 Nov 1847 in Kentucky. She was born on 25 Nov 1825 in Clay County, Kentucky, USA. She died on 07 Mar 1903 in Jones County, Texas, USA.

Notes for Wilkerson Eller:

In Volume 1, Part 2, page 1222, Chapter X, "Grants in the County Court Orders (1836-1924), the Counties of Kentucky," it is noted that Wilkerson Eller was granted 150 acres on the Wolf Creek Watercourse of Pulaski County, Kentucky. The survey date was 27 Oct 1855, and it is recorded on page 97 of book 53.

Notes for Margaret Jane Sloan:

Family lore said that Margaret left Kentucky in 1861-62 with her six children and came to Indiana where she knew there were other Eller relatives were living because of the Civil War going on in the South. A visit to Pulaski County revealed that their farm was in the immediate area of the Civil War Battle of Mill Springs, which occurred during the winter of 1861-62. So family lore was most likely correct.

Notes for William Harrison Eller:

The following was written in Memorial and Biographical History of the Counties of Fresno, Tulare, and Kern, under W. H. Eller, Page 475-6, published in 1892.

W. H. Eller, the resident superintendent and manager of the Fresno Vineyard Company, was born in Pulaski Co., Kentucky, 3 Nov 1849. His educational facilities were limited, as he was enabled to attend only the common schools as conducted at the old log schoolhouse, with hewed logs for benches, and the teacher brought her own chair. Having lost his father, Mrs. Eller and family moved to Monroe County, Indiana, in 1861, and there our subject began his own support at the age of eleven years, hiring out to a farmer at $3 per month. With increased years and strength he performed the heavier duties, and followed farm life in Indiana until 1878, when he went to Ellis County, Texas, and on rented land began the cultivation of corn, cotton, and oats. But the enterprise not proving very successful to Mr. Eller, he closed out his interests there in the fall of 1884, and came to California, direct to Fresno County. His first occupation was upon the ranch of Jeff Donahoo, and with a six-horse team and Heavy farm machinery he received fresh enthusiasm for the farm life. After two seasons on the ranch he took up the cultivation of vines, being first employed by Mr. Nudd, from whom he received his first lessons in the practical working of a vineyard. In August, 1886 he began work for the Fresno Vineyard Company, in their wine cellars, under D. D. Hudson, as superintendent. In 1887 Mr. McDonald became superintendent, and Mr. Eller was then placed in the position of foreman, and in March, 1889, was appointed superintendent and manager of the Fresno Vineyard interests.

The Fresno Vineyard is owned by a syndicate of San Francisco gentlemen, with L. P. Drexler as president. The tract embraces 450 acres, 350 of which is in wine grapes and about 20 acres in raisin grapes. The vineyard was planted in 1880 and contains only five foreign varieties. The winery, built in 1883, was destroyed by fire, and in 1886 they rebuilt of adobe brick, 200 feet square, with a largely increased storage capacity, which is held in an Eastern make of oak cooperage. In addition to this, there is a capacious sherry house, with a large packing house for handking dried grapes and raisins. In 1890 they picked 2,560 tons of grapes, and manufactured 247,000 gallons of wine, beside shipping thirty carloads of dried grapes. The distillery is very completely equipped, with a continuous copper still, twenty feet high by four and a half feet in diameter, with a capacity of 1,800 gallons of proof brandy per day. The company excels in ports, sherry, Angelica and Madeira. The product of the vineyard sells in San Francisco in bulk.

Mr. Eller was married in Fresno, in September, 1889, to Miss Anna Lee Garrett and they have one son, George Dean Eller, born September 1, 1890.

Notes for Leafy Della Abram:

Leafy's first name also seen on official documents as Letha Delia but she was known to her family and friends as Leafy Della. She had a very hard life. Her mother died when she was very young and she was raised by relatives who treated her more as a servant than a member of the family. She married James Eller, a widower with grown children. One daughter was still at home. Della had four boys with James, but before they were teenagers, their father died from measles caught from one of the boys. After his death she moved her boys to Dugger, IN to live with her older, unmarried brother, Milton, to keep house and work for him. But the little boys were too much for Milton, so she moved back to Hendricksville, where she did housework and took in laundry to earn money to raise her boys. In about 1927 she found work in Solsberry, keeping house for Dilly Beard. So she and her boys moved in with Mrs. Beard. She was also able to help in Aunt Jane Lutz's Boarding House. Solsberry was a railroad town and many drummers (traveling salesmen) passed through the area. After a few years and much hard work she was able to purchase a small house for her family. She raised her boys to have faith in God and instilled a desire to seek higher education. The boys worked and helped each other get their teaching certificates from Central Normal School in Danville, Indiana. Russell, Willie, and George spent their careers as teachers.

Notes for Paris Dennie Anderson:

The father of Paris is unknown, but he was close to four years old and living with Mary Ann Eller when Mary Ann and Rufus got married. He was raised as their child. In the 1870 census he was listed as Paris C. D. Eller. A hint of his parentage might be that there was a prominent citizen of Bloomington, Indiana during this time by the name of Paris Chipman Dunning. The elder Paris was trained in medicine and the law and dabbled in politics. He rose as high as Governor of Indiana in 1848, but always came back to his law practice in Bloomington. He never ran for political office after 1865 although he remained active in his law practice and lived to 1884. The Eller family lived on farms just west of Bloomington. Mary Ann would have had to work outside the home at an early age to help support the family because her father had died in Kentucky some years before. The younger Paris moved with the Anderson family to Texas in the early 1880s and grew up as a member of the family there. In addition to the child listed he and Edith had a daughter, name unknown. After divorcing his wife Paris moved to Oklahoma City. He died in Oklahoma when he attempted to break up a fight between a man and that man's wife. The man shot Paris because he interfered.

He was one of the original staff members at Binford Junior High School in Bloomington when the school opened in 1959 and was the head of the math department for 16 years before his retirement in 1975.
