Introduction

The following reports on what we call the Jacob/Magdalene line of Virginia Ellers appear in previous issues of the Chronicles, and are available as reprints from Nancy Eller, 500 E. Mission St., Crowley, TX 76036. This Jacob Eller appeared first in the record in Boetourt Co., VA in 1790. Although listed as a probable son of George Michael Eller by Hook (1957), this Jacob was probably an Eller immigrant directly from Germany - See David B. Eller and John C. Eller below..

Eller, David B., Dr., The Jacob Eller Family of Roanoke Virginia, (A Research Paper), Part I: Vol. II:2, 35-44; Part II: Vol. II:3, 81-86a).

Snavely, Edna Eller, The Sugar Loaf Kids, (History of the C.E. "Christ" Eller Family of Roanoke Co., VA), Vol. IV:117-138.

Dr. David Eller's research paper and the family histories of the Jay Vernard and Christian Eller families still rank among the very best that we have been privileged to publish in the Chronicles. Edna Snavely's story of the Christian Eller Family dealt with the family's experiences growing up on a farm five miles south of Salem, Virginia at the foot of Sugar Loaf mountain. John C. Eller's described the problem of the identity of their progenitor, Jacob Eller, and the plantation of his great grandson, Christian Eller. Now, we are indebted to Lowell Eller and his wife Sarah, for this up-date on this interesting family that takes its genealogy seriously.....Eds.
